

VTSL SOFT CLIENT

Use your iOS or Android mobile, tablet or computer just like your office phone with the VTSL soft client app

The modern business person needs to be able to work seamlessly wherever they are - at home or on the road. With VTSL's soft client, users can use their mobile device, or computer, just like their office phone. They can make and receive calls from their office number, access company directories and transfer calls just as if they were using their desktop phone. With virtually no set-up time, and an intuitive user interface, you don't have to wait to provide your team with this powerful tool.

BENEFITS

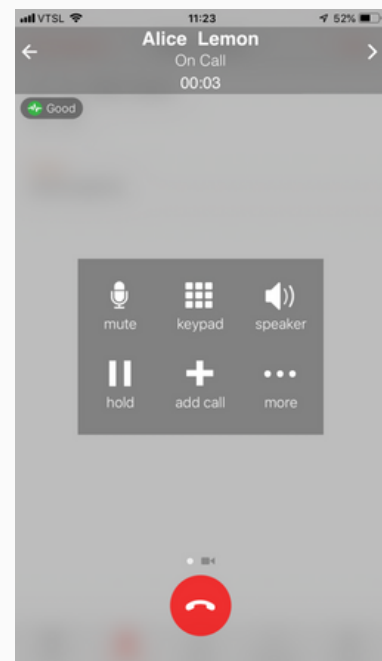

Empower staff to work from anywhere. Being able to make calls from the office number while on the go enables them to be more productive and professional.

Ensure high productivity regardless of where staff work. Calls using a soft client will be logged on the portal, so there is no risk of home-workers shirking work.

Don't miss out recruiting the best staff. Many staff now expect to be able to work from home occasionally. Don't miss out on these candidates because you don't have the technology to support them.

Reduce your telecoms costs. Why pay for business mobiles for staff, when they can simply use an app? Introduce a BYOD (Bring your own device) policy and save money.

Minimise the risk. Letting employees use their mobiles for work without a soft client carries risk. What if the employee is on holiday, or leaves the business for a competitor? With our soft client, you are in control of where calls are routed.

The user interface is very intuitive. Employees can immediately see how to switch to speaker phone, mute the call, conference others in or put the call on hold.
